Accumulating Points – Horse and Rider Combination

When entering, you may use the horse's registered name or a nickname, but the same name must be used throughout the season. If you use different names at different shows for the same horse, there is good chance the horse's points will be split up. If this happens, points WILL NOT be combined at a later date. It's your responsibility to use the same name for your horse at every show.

You may also receive points on more than one horse.
